OBITUARY and LIFE REFLECTIONS
OF Moses Brown

Moses Brown was born May 1st, 1933 in Memphis, Tennessee; the youngest of four children born to Frank Sr. and Magnolia Brown. Moses attended Booker T. Washington High School where he majored in trade, lath and plastering. His interest in lath and plastering paved the way to what would be a life time career in the plastering industry as a successful contractor. Moses acquired his business, known as Kensington Plastering, named after the town in which he lived, from 1974 – 2005. Moses and his wife operated a thriving business. He was acknowledged by David Gerstel, author of "The Builder's Guide to Running a Successful Construction Company," as an accolade of his lath and plastering success throughout the years. David Gerstel featured many of Moses' lath and plastering projects throughout the East Bay.

Moses was united in holy matrimony in 1951 to Evelyn Jean Brown, the love of his life. Of this union was born Michael Arnett, Wendell Ray, Linda Carrol, and Darryl Everette Brown.

In 1956, Moses moved his family to California at the ongoing request of Evelyn's brother Howard Hall. As he settled in to California he and his wife became members of Church of The Good Shepherd. Moses had previously accepted the Lord at an early age and faithfully served Him. He joined the Church of The Good Shepherd and served as a Sunday School Teacher, Deacon, and sang in the Men's Chorus. He worked faithfully assisting the Church as he was led to do by the Lord. Moses was acknowledged for plastering the entire exterior of the Church of The Good Shepherd, with his son Wendell Brown.

Moses enjoyed traveling, fishing, boating and camping. He was very instrumental in planning family activities and exploring abroad. Our family is delighted in the traditions Moses created by organizing and planning these many events as we all enjoyed countless hours with him on his beautiful boat. His travel experiences took him around the country as recreational R.V. was his passion.

He took pleasure in sharing old memories of his childhood days in Memphis, Tennessee to his grandkids, family, and friends. He was especially proud to sing with the famous Peabody Hotel Quartet where all the stars were born on Memphis' renowned Beale Street.

Moses went home to be with the Lord on December 1st, 2017, after a long illness. He is survived by his loving family, his wife, Evelyn Brown, of Kensington California, his son, Wendell Brown (Joann), of Patterson, California, and daughter Dr. Linda Culpepper of Benicia, California. His eldest son Michael and youngest son Darryl preceded him in death. He will be forever loved by his grandchildren Marcell Lloyd (Kim), Aryanne Lloyd, Theodius Daniels, Evelyn Harrison (Troyce), Ebony Edwards (Carlton), and Wendell Brown Jr. Great grandchildren Marcellino Lloyd, Isaiah Daniels, Deja Harrison, Khalil Westbrook, Delaney Daniels, Saniya Harrison, Quinton Lloyd, Troyce Harrison Jr, Cassen Edwards, Keziah Westbrook, Zion Edwards and a host of nieces, nephews, and extended relatives and friends. The family is appreciative to all family members for their support and gentle care to a remarkable husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather and friend.
